Roadshow kicks off

The Standard Bank Rocking Future Roadshow kicked off its East Rand leg recently, visiting 40 local schools, including Brakpan High.

The show, which has been running for 10 years, aims to educate matrics across South Africa about tertiary education options.

Each show features exhibitions from up to 20 of the country's finest universities and colleges.

Many local campuses are also present at the shows to meet the matrics in their areas.

By placing emphasis on choosing a study-path out of passion rather than parental, peer and societal expectations, the show helps young adults to make the right decisions regarding their tertiary education.

Learners are also able to ask the college and university representatives questions about the courses on offer and student life.

The show has been touring South Africa for 10 years, reaches 30 000 matrics across the country each year.

Tanya Vandenberg, creative director of Three Ring Circus, creators of the show, said it's been fantastic to see the response of the learners all over the country on the Facebook page.

Learning is fun
