

Standard Bank Roadshow comes to town again

Left - Khanyiso Kin and Markos Kolatsis from Forbes Lever Baker discuss the importance of a tertiary education.

Right - Hosts of the Roadshow, Pascal Lwambwa and Que Lebatha entertain the crowd.

Krugersdorp — During the last nine years the Standard Bank Rocking Roadshow has reached more than 168 000 matriculants nationwide, through more than 1 248 shows in eight regions.

Once again this year, the roadshow made its way to Krugersdorp.

The shows were recently presented at Town View High School, Hoërskool Jan de Klerk and Hoërskool Bastion.

The roadshow now has over 30 of the country's top tertiary institutions on board as well as hundreds of participating high schools.

The show is hosted by Pascal Lwambwa and Que Lebatha whose youthful presence captivates audiences with the aid of music, giveaways and great visuals.

So they manage to get their message across in a tight yet fun format.

The one-hour show packs a great atmosphere. It communicates positive messages and alerts Grade 12 learners to the enormous selection of career opportunities in the marketplace.

The Roadshow will also visit other schools in the Krugersdorp area. Don't miss it.

• Details: Log on to www.rockingfuture.co.za

