

A few students from Dr Johan Jurgens High School at the Rocking Future Roadshow that visited the school on April 19.

School gets rocked by roadshow

The Standard Bank Rocking Future Roadshow kicked off its East Rand leg recently and visited Dr Johan Jurgens High School on April 19.

Each show features exhibitions from up to 20 of the country's finest universities and colleges. Many local campuses are also present at the show to meet the matrics in their areas.

By placing emphasis on choosing a study-path out of passion rather than parental, peer and social expectations, the show helps young adults make the right decisions regarding their tertiary education. Learners are also able to ask the college and university representatives questions about the courses on offer and student life.

The show has been touring South Africa for 10 years and reaches 30 000 matrics across the country each year.

Tanya van den Berg, creative director of Three Ring Circus, creators of the show, is thrilled at the success of the project. She says, "It's been fantastic to see the response of learners all over the country on the Facebook page. It's encouraging because we are making a personal difference in their lives."

2010 sees the introduction of the Young Achiever Award. In order to celebrate the Soccer World Cup, the roadshow is on the lookout for Grade 11 and 12s who contribute to their community through sport.

Teachers and fellow students have been asked to nominate an individual that they feel is making a difference around them through personal initiative and talent. They will be selected in May and, as a prize, a South African sports figure will visit the winning learner's school.

For more information, visit www.rockingfuture.co.za.

